Asylum Approval

Dear Mr. Khan:

This refers to your request for Asylum in the United States, Form I-589. This office previously issued you a letter to notify you that your request for asylum had been recommended for approval, pending the results of the mandatory, confidential investigation of your identity and background.

It has been determined that you have established eligibility for asylum. Attached please find a completed Form I-94, Arrival Departure Record, indicating that you have been granted asylum status in the United States pursuant to §208(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) as of January 8, 1999. You have been granted asylum in the United States for an indefinite period. This grant of asylum includes your dependents listed above who are present in the United States, were included in your asylum application, and for whom you have established a qualifying relationship by a preponderance of evidence.

In order to request derivative asylum status for any spouse or child who was not included in your asylum request, you must submit a Form I-730, Refugee and Asylee Relative Petition, to the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS).

You are eligible for employment authorization for as long as you remain in asylum status. Your dependents listed above are also eligible for employment authorization, so long as they retain derivative asylum status. However, you must apply for and obtain an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) as evidence of your eligibility to work in the United States. To obtain an EAD, you must submit to the INS a Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization. We suggest that you include a copy of this letter when applying for work authorization as an asylee.

If you plan to depart the United States, you must obtain permission to return to the United States before you leave this country. If you do not obtain permission, you may be unable to reenter the United States, or you may be placed in proceedings where you will be required to establish your asylum status. You may apply for a Refugee Travel Document on a Form I-131, Application for Travel Document.

Asylum status does not give you the right to remain permanently in the United States. Asylum status may be terminated if you no longer have a well-founded fear of persecution because of a fundamental change in circumstances, you have obtained protection from another country, or you have committed certain crimes or engaged in other activity that makes you ineligible to retain asylum status in the United States. See INA § 208(c)(2) and 8 C.F.R. §208.22(a).

You may apply for lawful permanent resident status under section 209(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act after you have been physically present in the United States for a period of one year after the date you were granted asylum status. To apply for lawful permanent residence status, you must submit to the INS a Form I-485, Application to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status.

You must notify the INS of any change of address within ten days of any such change. You may obtain a Form AR-11 at your nearest post office or INS office to comply with this requirement.

You may obtain any of the forms noted above at an INS District Office or INS Forms Center. Instructions with or on the forms explain how to complete the forms, what documents to attach and where to send the completed forms.

Sincerely,

Emilia Bardini
Acting Director
San Francisco Asylum Office

NOORULLAH KHAN

D E C L A R A T I O N

I was born and raised in KHOST which is located in province of PAKTIA, AFGHANISTAN. I was forced to leave the country to save my life by the agents of HEZB-i-ISLAMI Afghanistan.

When the Russians invaded Afghanistan in December 1979, like every Afghan I was greatly shocked and angered. I decided to fight them and joined Hezb-i-Islami Afghanistan. Later on due to ideological differences, I left the Hezb-i-Islami and joined Harakat-i-Inquilab-i-Islami under the leadership of Maulavi Nasrullah Mansoor. I use to guard the posts along with other Mujahideen made by the Harakat and took part in fight. When the Russians left and the Govt: of Dr. Najibullah fell in the spring of 1992. We thought to rebuild the nation which was wounded by Russians and their proteges. This dream fo rebuilding afghanistan was shattered by the Hezb-i-Islami who believed that they have the birth right to rule Afghanistan and who donot agree with them should be annihilated. The commamders of Hezb against me since I left the organization and plan to kill me, but because fo Harakat could not do that.

Our beloved leader of Harakat-i-Inquilab-i-Islami was made Governor of Paktia after independance I joined his squad of personal bodyguards. Hezb-i-Islami wanted to kill Moulavi Nasrullah Mansoor and tried a number of times but was not successful. In the spring of 1993 when we were coming from Kabul, we were attacked by the agents of Hezb-i-Islami. They used rocket launchers and one of them hit the vehicle on which our beloved leader was travelling.

We were arrested by the Hezb-i-Islami. First they wanted to kill us then decided to take us to CHARA SIAH, head quarters of Hezb-i-Islami.

On the way they were attacked by the group of Mujahids from Engineer Ahmad shah's group. Some of them ran away and we were freed. I came back to Khost.

Moulavi Nasrullah Mansoor's death was a great loss and big blow to our organization. Hezb-i-Islami sent a message to me that I should join them or face the consequences. They also threatened the other people who refused to work with them. A month later a group of unknown people attacked our house at night I was not home. Fortunately no one was hurt. The Hezb sent a message that next time I will not be lucky if I donot join them. quite a few of other members of Harakat were killed by the Hezb. I decided to leave the country and came to Pakistan. I knew that they can still follow me there and decided to go to another country and on first oppurtunity came to U.S.

You indicated during your asylum application and interview that you were a member of the Harakat-E-Islami from 1985 until you left the country in 1993. You also stated that for several years you served as a body guard to the leader of the group. You additionally stated that when the Russians invaded Afghanistan in December 1979 you decided to fight them and joined Hizb-I-Islami, but due to ideological differences, you left the Hizb-I-Islami and joined Harakat-e-Inqilab-e-Islami under the leadership of Maulavi Nasrullah Mansoor. You stated that as part of your duties, you used to guard the posts along with other Mujahideen and took part in the fight.

The INA, at section 212(a)(3)(B)(vi)(III), defines a terrorist organization as an organization that is a group of two or more individuals, whether organized or not, which engages in, or has a subgroup which engages in, the activities described in subclauses (I) through (VI) of clause (iv).

The Memorial Institute for the Prevention of Terrorism (MIPT) is a non-profit organization dedicated to preventing terrorism on U.S. soil or mitigating its effects. MIPT was established after the April 1995 bombing of the Murrah federal building in Oklahoma City, and it is funded through the Department of Homeland Security's Office of Grants and Training (G&T). According to public information on www.tkb.org, Hizb-I-Islami Gulbuddin (HIG) emerged in 1977 as a radical faction of the Hizb-I-Islami party. This group seeks to liberate Afghanistan from the influence of foreign forces, overthrow the Afghan government, and establish a fundamentalist Islamic state. HIG was known to be one of the most radical mujahidin groups in the Afghan resistance during the Soviet occupation. The group had close ties to the Taliban and Osama bin Laden during this period, and the Taliban and al-Qaeda continue to operate in the same spheres as HIG. In the early 1990s, HIG founder Gulbuddin Hikmatyar was known to have operated several terrorist training camps in Afghanistan. After training, terrorists would be sent to assist mujahidin in other hotbeds of religious conflict. Since the United States-led coalition invaded Afghanistan in 2001, Hizb-I-Islami Gulbuddin (HIG) has led terrorist attacks against the United States, its coalition partners, and the Afghan Transitional Administration (ATA). In addition to attacking coalition forces and Afghan government targets, HIG has attacked the personnel and facilities of the United Nations and NGOs as well. The group is considered to be an active threat.

The Department of State, Country Reports on Terrorism, Released by the Office of the Coordinator for Counterterrorism, April 30, 2007 further provides that HIG's leader, Hikmatyar, offered to shelter bin Ladin after the latter fled Sudan in 1996 and has consistently offered public support for him since the 9/11 attacks. Hikmatyar has issued regular statements on the need for Afghans to reject the international community's presence in their country. In 2005, he responded to protests against Danish cartoons of the prophet Mohammad with a new call for the expulsion of international troops from Afghanistan.

Due to the activities and objectives of the Hizb-I Islami Gulbuddin, it meets the current definition of an undesignated terrorist organization at INA section 212(a)(3)(B)(vi)(III). The violent activities of the HIG match those described in section 212(a)(3)(B)(iii) and 212(a)(3)(B)(iv).

The INA, at section 212(a)(3)(B)(vi)(III), defines a terrorist organization as an organization that is a group of two or more individuals, whether organized or not, which engages in, or has a subgroup which engages in, the activities described in subclauses (I) through (VI) of clause (iv).

The Program for Culture & Conflict Studies (CCS) conducts research in support of the Human Terrain System (HTS) Initiative. Their research provides comprehensive assessments of provincial and district tribal and clan networks in Afghanistan, anthropological assessments of Afghan villages, and assessments of the operational culture of Afghan districts and villages. Under the direction of Naval Postgraduate School Professor Thomas H. Johnson and coordination of the Department of National Security Affairs, CCS provides anthropological information and assessments to military personnel, academics, and the general public since 2007. Faculty members regularly hold conferences, workshops and briefs to deploying troops, as part of the Regional Security Education Program (RSEP) and Leadership Development & Education for Sustained Peace (LDESP).

According to public information on <http://www.nps.edu>, Harakat-e Islami (NUF) is a Shi'a party originally led by Muhammad Asif Muhsini. The Harakat-e Islami fought the Soviets with support from Tehran. Known for having many Hazara as well as non-Hazara members, this Shi'ite party refused to join the Hazara coalition Hizb-i Wahdat in the ensuing civil war. Since 2005 they have been led by Hojjatolislam Seyyed Muhammad Ali Jawed, a minister in Karzai's first cabinet.

Human Rights Watch is dedicated to protecting the human rights of people around the world. They stand with victims and activists to prevent discrimination, to uphold political freedom, to protect people from inhumane conduct in wartime, and to bring offenders to justice. They investigate and expose human rights violations and hold abusers accountable. They challenge governments and those who hold power to end abusive practices and respect international human rights law. They enlist the public and the international community to support the cause of human rights for all. Human Rights Watch is an independent, nongovernmental organization, supported by contributions from private individuals and foundations worldwide. It accepts no government funds, directly or indirectly. According to public information on <http://www.hrw.org>, Harakat-e Islami-yi Afghanistan (hereafter "Harakat"), was a Shia political party and mujahideen force founded in the early 1980s. The Harakat-e Islami party was headed for most of the 1980s by Mohammad Asef Mohseni (a cleric who participated in the June 2002 Loya Jirga). Harakat received substantial support from Iran in the early 1990s. Harakat, like Wahdat, is now fractured. One faction is led by Mohseni, a second splinter is led by a military commander Sayeed Hossein Anwari (now the Agricultural Minister), and a third is led by Sayeed Mohammad Ali Javeed (now the Minister of Transportation).

According to public information on <http://www.dos.gov>, Afghan freedom fighters (mujahidin) made it almost impossible for the Soviet communist regime to maintain a system of local government outside major urban centers. Poorly armed at first, in 1984 the mujahidin began receiving substantial assistance in the form of weapons and training from the U.S. and other outside powers. In May 1985, the seven principal Peshawar-based guerrilla organizations formed an alliance to coordinate their political and military operations against the Soviet occupation. Late in 1985, the mujahidin were active in and around Kabul, launching rocket attacks and conducting operations against the communist government. The failure of the Soviet Union to win over a significant number of Afghan collaborators or to rebuild a viable Afghan army forced it to bear an increasing responsibility for fighting the resistance and for civilian administration.

Due to the activities and objectives of the Harakat-E-Islami, it meets the current definition of an undesignated terrorist organization at INA section 212(a)(3)(B)(vi)(III). The violent activities of the Harakat-E-Islami match those described in section 212(a)(3)(B)(iii) and 212(a)(3)(B)(iv).

You indicated that you have been a member of both Hizb-I-Islami and Harakat-E-Islami both of whom meet the definition of an undesignated terrorist organization as described in section 212(a)(3)(B)(vi)(III). You are inadmissible for having engaged in a terrorist activity by committing a terrorist activity under 212(a)(3)(B)(iv)(I) and for affording material support to a Tier III terrorist organization or member under section 212(a)(3)(B)(iv)(VI)(dd).

Accordingly, your application must be and hereby is denied. The regulations do not provide for an appeal to this decision.

Sincerely,

F. Gerard Heinauer
